CAPACITI

I am a front-end developer passionate about building accessible, responsive, user-centered web experiences. Skilled in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and modern frameworks, I translate ideas into organized, scalable portfolio features. With a foundation in networking and cloud concepts, I design connected systems that grow with user needs. Recently, I completed an AI Bootcamp, expanding my knowledge of machine learning and intelligent systems to complement my web expertise. Motivated by continuous learning, collaboration, and creativity, I thrive in projects that balance clarity, innovation, and impact.
